I have written recently about the close long-term relationship between energy consumption and economic growth. We know that economic growth is tied to job creation, so it stands to reason that energy consumption would be tied to job growth. But I will have to admit that I was surprised by the closeness of the relationship for the period shown.

N-back is a kind of mental training intended to expand your working memory (WM), and hopefully your intelligence (IQ 1).. The theory originally went that novel 2 cognitive processes tend to overlap and seem to go through one central bottleneck. As it happens, WM predicts and correlates with IQ 3 and may use the same neural networks 4, suggesting that WM might be IQ 5.
